PUT UNDER A BAN.

Philadelphia Educationists on Victor Hugo.

SAY "LES MISÉRABLES" IS IMMORAL.

And Consequently Enter a Decided Protest Against Its Being Put on the List of French Books for Girls' High School.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 13.—"Les Misérables," generally acknowledged to be the masterpiece of French literature, the most important product of Victor Hugo's fertile brain and ranking with the best classics in the literature of the world, has come under the ban of educational conservatism.

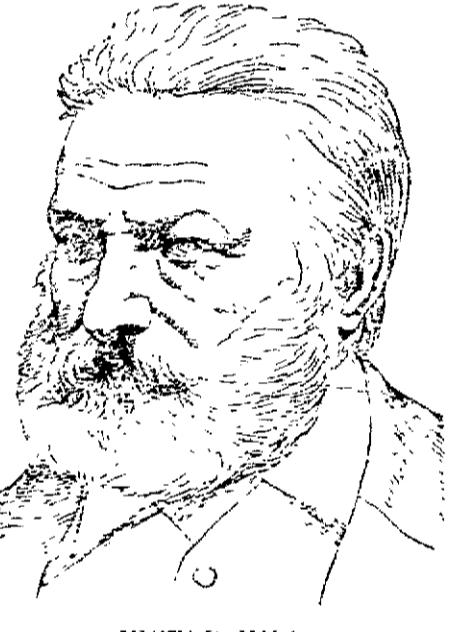

The committee of the board of education on the Girls' High school has declared against it, and henceforth the story of unfortunate Fantine, her child Cosette and Jean Valjean must be relegated to dark closets, where the High school students cannot find it.

When Principal William D. Rorer presented to the committee a list of the text books required by the Girls' High school, he did not anticipate the sensation which the suggestion would create.

Chairman Dr. Thomas G. Morton of that committee cast a critical eye over the list and spied "Les Misérables" in French. He at once declared that he must object to at least one book asked for, mentioning it. He had read it and regarded it as decidedly improper to put in the hands of girls in the High school. He proposed that it be struck from the list.

Principal Rorer replied that he had not read the edition to be used, but said it was for the use of the French classes and had been suggested by the head of that department, Miss C. Dalour.

Mr. Rorer was soon afterward and said, "I do not care to go deeply into the matter until I can see Miss Dalour, who is a very estimable woman and learn her reasons for recommending the book, which I am confident is an abridgment of the original and contains nothing objectionable. I will examine the list of French books required to be read by students entering Bryn

VICTOR HUGO.

Maur and other colleges to see if "Les Misérables" is indeed among them."

Dr. Morton expressed himself very freely when seen at his office.

"Do you regard the book as immoral?" he was asked.

"No, not essentially so," was the reply, "but I do not think it a proper book to place in the hands of our girls for study."

"My objection is to the tone of the book. It deals, as any one who has read it knows, with the grits of France. That in itself is condonatory. I think we who have charge of the public schools have a sacred trust and we cannot be too cautious in setting before the young girls and boys anything which detracts from their ideals of virtue and purity." Their parents hold us responsible, and we owe a duty to them and to the girls. If the book is in a library, that is different thing, for the child's parents are supposed to keep an eye over what she reads, but to require pupils to read a tainted book is wrong. I would object to any classics, even some of Shakespeare's works, if they were immoral."

SATURDAY AT LATEST.

Probability That the Luettgen Case Will Go to the Jury Then.

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—Assistant State Attorney McEwan finished his argument in the Luettgen trial yesterday, and was followed today by Attorney Phalen, who made the opening address for the defense. Mr. McEwan took up the entire day with his argument and went over the case carefully. He connected the details of the evidence for the jury and showed how one circumstance fitted into another, and how the whole mass of evidence submitted by the state furnished, in his opinion, a full and complete circumstantial chain proving that Luettgen had murdered his wife in order that his relations with his servant girl, Mary Siemering, might remain undisturbed.

Throughout the entire argument Luettgen listened to the speech of the attorney who was asking for his life with the greatest attention. It is now practically certain that the arguments will be finished so that the case will be given to the jury by Saturday at the latest.

The Hon. Richard S. Tuthill, the presiding judge in the Luettgen murder trial, came near losing his life yesterday. He left home for the criminal court building and attempted to board a rapid train on Madison street, near his home. The engineer suddenly fixed his cap and started the train with unusual swiftness just as Judge Tuthill had seized the hand rail of the rear car. He hung on tightly to save himself from being buried under a passing truck and was dragged half a block before the train could be stopped. Though very lame from his injuries, he went on to the courthouse and presided over the trial as usual.

TORNADO IN NEW JERSEY.

One Man Was Killed and Another Injured.

ELIZABETH, N. J., Oct. 13.—A tornado struck New Jersey yesterday. It traveled from the little village of Fair Hills, near Summit, to Elizabeth. The storm appeared in the form of a black cloud which increased in size and rapidity as it approached the village.

There was a perfect calm, and then the tornado struck the village. Its path was about 50 feet wide. A barn belonging to David Dumont was demolished. The roof of the house which stood near by was stripped of its shingles and shatters. The other houses suffered in the same way, but none was blown down.

The most serious damage was at the depot, which was unrooted, the heavy beams rolled up into a mass and carried several hundred feet.

Within the storm took hold. Ediza, which it swept down, a partly finished dwelling house on Atlantic street, John Clark, a laborer of Bayonne, with another workman, had taken refuge in the partly completed house, and Clark was buried in the wreck and killed. His companion managed to get out with slight injuries. Through the city the storm did considerable damage, and telegraph and telephone wires were prostrated.

Store Robbed in Paterson.

PATERSON, N. J., Oct. 13.—Two men entered the store of Edwin Stewart, dealer in men's furnishings, and seized the boy in charge, blinding him and leaving him in the cellar. They then went through the safe and got $27, but missed a considerably larger sum that was also in the safe.

Garrison in New York.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Abolom J. Boile, a broker, was found in the Ten Broeck district crying for help. He said he had been garrisoned and robbed of $100, a watch and a scarfpin, by thugs, who threw a rope round his neck and dragged him into a hallway.

Democratic Victory Conceded.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 13.—The Republicans have conceded the election of Mr. Taggart as mayor by 5,000 and the rest of the Democratic ticket by from 7,000 to 4,000. It is hard to figure gains and losses on account of recent changes in precinct boundaries. Ex-President Harrison's precinct shows a large Democratic gain. In fact, the Democrats made heavy gains in Republican strongholds.

The Yellow Fever Bulletin.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Surgeon General Wyman's bulletin on the yellow fever situation shows that new cases have occurred at the following places: At Mobile, 3; at Biloxi, 12; at Edwards, 10, and at Clinton, Miss., 1. At McHenry, Miss., the total number of cases has been 11. At Galveston there were no new cases and no deaths. At New Orleans 33 new cases and 2 deaths.

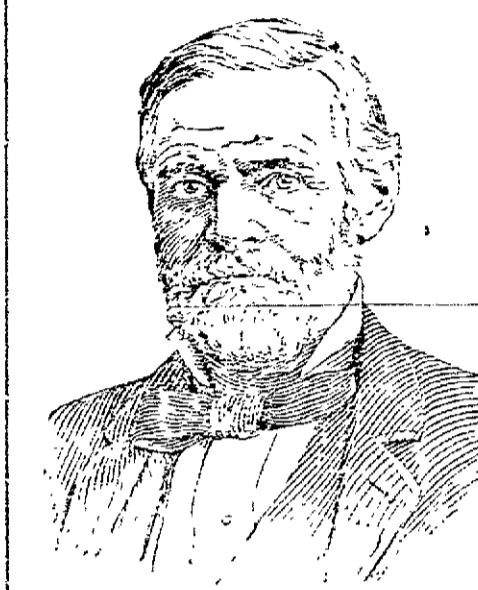

SHERMAN'S ANSWER.

Replies to Lord Salisbury on Sealing Conference.

UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT AMAZED

It Had Been Confidentially Expected All Along That Great Britain Would Participate With the Representatives of Russia and Japan.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Secretary Sherman has written a reply to the note of Lord Salisbury expressing Great Britain's declination to take part in a Bering sea conference in which Russia and Japan are to participate. The essential features of Mr. Sherman's reply have been sent by cable to the British government and the reply in full is now on its way to the British authorities. Lord Salisbury's note of declination, it can now be stated, bore date of Oct. 5, just Wednesday, so that the response is made with promptness.

The answer states that the United States government views with astonishment the determination of Great Britain not to participate in a conference including Russia and Japan, and the statement is made that up to the 23d of last month the United States authorities had fully expected that the conference would proceed with Russia and Japan as well as Great Britain represented.

It is pointed out that aside from the written correspondence to which Lord Salisbury had called attention, there were verbal negotiations between Ambassador Hay and his lordship, in which specific reference was made to the participation of Russia and Japan. At one of these verbal exchanges, it is stated, Lord Salisbury said he would advise with the officials of the foreign office concerning the subjects discussed, which included the participation of Russia and Japan. Subsequently, on July 29, Ambassador Hay wrote to Lord Salisbury, saying the president hoped to have Russia and Japan participate in the conference. In view of these circumstances, the United States had confidently expected that Great Britain would take part in the conference, and that Russia and Japan would be represented, with the approval of Great Britain.

Besides the foregoing reply and in view of the differences which have arisen the state department suggests a conference in accordance with the terms of Lord Salisbury's agreement, as he construes it—namely, between experts of Great Britain, the United States and Canada. This last feature is now under consideration by the British government, its substance having been transmitted by cable, but it is not expected that an answer will be made until Mr. Sherman's answer in detail reaches London. In the meantime preparations for the conference between the United States, Russia and Japan are proceeding. The Japanese delegates, who are now en route from San Francisco, have decided to stop over for two days at Chicago and will not reach Washington until next Sunday night. Two of the Russian delegates, Mr. Borkin and Mr. Routhowsky are here, and the remaining delegate, Mr. Gribunsky, is expected soon. While no exact date has been fixed for the conference, the expectation is that all the delegates will be here in time to bring them together on Wednesday, Oct. 20.

DESTRUCTION BY FOREST FIRES.

MALONE, N. Y., Oct. 13.—Adirondack forest fires have destroyed many thousands of dollars' worth of timber in this county. The extremely high winds have started fires up in many localities. Over 1,000 acres in one tract of heavily timbered land was burned in the town of Brandon, bordering the Malone town line. The east side of Mount Moronielle was all burned over, much valuable timber being destroyed. Fires are also burning in the woods two miles above the forge at Chateaugay lake and also in the vicinity of Ayres hotel at Lake Duane.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 13.—Chairman Mott of the L. A. W. racing board last night issued the following important notice: "Until accounts for pacemakers are settled, Manager Dixie Hines of New York is ruled off the tracks, and J. Frank Starbuck of Philadelphia is suspended from track and road racing."

A HOLDUP IN TEXAS.

Train Robbers Went Through the Passengers' Pockets.

LEFT THEM WITHOUT A SINGLE CENT

The Conductor of the Train Was Shot, but Not Seriously—When the Thieves Had Finished They Uncoupled the Engine and Escaped.

ADAMS HAS DECLINED.

AUSTIN, Oct. 13.—In broad open daylight and within 12 miles of the corporate limits of this city the southbound Cannonball train on the International and Great Northern railroad, consisting of mail, baggage and express cars and three coaches loaded with passengers, was held up by four men and robbed. The conductor of the train, Tom Healy, was shot by the robbers while resisting them, but fortunately was not seriously wounded. One of the passengers had his shirt collar carried away by a pistol ball that was aimed at his neck, and another received a bullet wound in the hand.

The passengers were robbed of some $200 in money. The bandits attempted to ride the safe in the express car, but were unsuccessful.

When the train reached McNeil, a small station 14 miles above this city, two men, heavily armed, boarded the train and took their stand on the rear platform. After the conductor had checked up the train he reached the platform only to find a pistol at each side of his head. The men demanded that he stop the train. He declined to do so and began to run through the train with the two robbers in close pursuit. He had not gone half the length of the first car when the foremost robber shot at him, bringing him to the floor with a pistol wound in his right arm.

At this juncture the other robber pulled the bell cord, and the train was brought to a standstill. It was evidently at the appointed place, for the train had hardly stopped before two other men, whose faces were covered with masks, stepped out from among the trees and began shooting into the cars. Instantly all was confusion. The two men on the train were immediately joined by those from the woods and began their work. As the colored train porter sprang from the rear coach and ran for shelter a robber began shooting at him, and the negro emptied a revolver in turn without effect.

The express messenger looked out of his car, and taking in the situation, left the car and ran through the woods and was soon lost to sight. The robbers in the meantime, leaving two men to guard the three coaches, which were packed with passengers, proceeded to the express car and demanded that the baggage-men open the express safe, but upon being assured he could not do so, they turned their attention to the passengers. They took only money from them, not overlooking a single cent, and walking by two through the cars, so as always to keep their eyes on the passengers. Having secured about $200 in this manner, they uncoupled the engine from the train and started it off down the track. After going several miles they set the lever at a moderate gait and left the engine.

Some of the servant girls had to be turned down from the seventh story by the firemen. The damage to the hotel will amount to about $5,000.

IN THE CITY OF FIRES.

This Time Chicago's Big Hotel, the Sherman House, Falls Victim.

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—At 1:20 o'clock this morning fire broke out in the Sherman House, one of the largest hotels in the city, and although all of the guests and the servants escaped in safety, there was for a time a lively panic.

The fire originated in the kitchen range, and spread with great rapidity. There was a wild rush for the stairs, and in a few minutes all the guests in all conditions of undress were in the street or safety on their way to the fire escape. Some of the servant girls had to be turned down from the seventh story by the firemen. The damage to the hotel will amount to about $5,000.

LEAPED TWENTY-FIVE FEET AND LIVED.

MOUNT VERNON, N. Y., Oct. 13.—Grazed by illness and grief, Mrs. John D. Brennan leaped from the second story of the Mount Vernon hospital last night. For an hour she fled through streets, clad only in her nightclothes. She was finally captured by the police and returned to her bed in the hospital, and unless she has contracted pneumonia she is none the worse for her adventure, notwithstanding her leap of 25 feet to the ground.

A Manmade to Health.

ALBANY, Oct. 13.—Forty families living in the vicinity of the works of the Catskill Brick company in Catskill have registered a complaint with the state board of health that the works are injurious to health. The complaint is based on the ground that the company uses soft coal to such an extent that in the immediate vicinity of its works the air is polluted with smoke and coal gas to such an extent that the windows and doors of all houses in the neighborhood have to be kept closed the year round. The board will investigate the matter.

Injurious to the Water Supply.

ALBANY, Oct. 13.—Dr. Tucker has reported to the state board of health that as a result of his son's investigation that a nuisance does exist and interests contribute to the pollution. But the board in January, 1897, rejected his report on the ground that the air is polluted with smoke and coal gas to such an extent that the windows and doors of all houses in the neighborhood have to be kept closed the year round. The board will investigate the matter.

To Unite Societies.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 13.—A plan of permanent union of two patriotic societies nearly similar in name and purpose has been agreed upon. They are the National Society of the Sons of the American Revolution and the General Society of the Sons of the Revolution. Both societies met in separate sessions yesterday and adopted the plan of union prepared by a conference committee with some amendments.

WOMEN RUN THE TOWN.

Peculiar State of Affairs Existing at Jamestown, Kan.

Men Have Risen in a Body and Sent a Demand for Reform to the Feminine City Council—Fight Still On.

Jamestown, Kan., is distinguished above all towns, and it is a variety of distinction that will be lasting as the Rock of Ages. Jamestown is the only town in the civilized world that ever has been ruled exclusively by the feminine element. In other words, this little town has a mayor, a city council, a police magistrate, a constable, a night watchman, a dog catcher, and so on, who are all women. Therefore, Jamestown has taken a lot of the statures of the new woman and claims the honor of being the first female municipality anywhere in the United States.

It was last spring that the women of Jamestown got into difficulties. And they went into the city with a rush and vim which carried all things before it—including the men. The women made out a full ticket from mayor down, and put up a woman candidate for each and every office, and the poor men were boycotted right and left. The women were going to show the men for once in their lives just what they are here for, and what they can do if they only want to. And in this instance the dear creatures certainly carried out their plans in an admirable manner.

Of course the men laughed at the idea of the women attempting any such foolish thing, and they made up their usual ticket for the regular spring election, and confidently expected to carry it. But when the votes were all cast and counted it would have been hard to find a more sorrowful and disgruntled lot of men than could be seen sneaking up the back alleys of Jamestown, Kan.

But the women were not satisfied by merely beating the men at the polls. No, indeed, they were going to show the men how to run a city in a ship-shape, business-like manner. And their resolve to carry things with a high hand has resulted in a peculiar state of affairs.

Mrs. Anna M. Strain

(Mayor of the Town of Jamestown, Kan.) to say the least. It has precipitated a quarrel of no mean proportions between the entire male and female population of this formerly peaceful little village.

It has now arrived at that stage, says the Philadelphia Press, where husbands have banded together against wives and wives against their better halves. Since the election the men have been active in placing as many obstacles in the women's way as possible. They sit up nights planning and drawing long and intricate petitions to the honorable city council for certain and diverse changes in the conduct of the city's affairs, and it keeps the members of the council hustling and at their wits' ends to read all these petitions and pass upon them.

And lately a new style of warfare has sprung up. Jamestown has always been noted for its piety and general peacefulness and scarcity of "joints" of all kinds. But since the election of the women saloons have been started, cock and dog fights are frequent, while crap shooting and poker playing flourish.

And as soon as all these institutions were in a flourishing condition the men rose up in a body and sent in a long petition to the honorable city council asking that a reform be instituted. They even went so far as to call an indignation meeting, to which all husbands and fathers were urgently requested to attend. All women, of course, were reluctantly barred from attending. At this meeting the steaming surrender to the law-defying class of citizens by the female city officials was decried and a public protest made.

The eloquent speakers on this occasion said: "Shall our fair city be turned over to the lawbreakers by the gang of rascals now administering our public affairs? Shall our children be given such a horrible example of open lawlessness and sinning as these women officials are allowing?" And of course they were applauded and shouts of "Never! never!" were loud and frequent.

But the women were not idle all this time; far from it. They banded together for mutual protection and a few days ago, armed with axes, brooms and other favorite feminine implements of warfare, they visited every saloon and joint in the city and completely demolished the interiors of the gilded palaces of sin. They did the work so completely that nothing was saved from the wreck, and then they quietly departed and returned to their homes. Things in Jamestown at present are quiet, but it may be the lull before the storm, and an outbreak is expected at almost any time. The men certainly have not given in, but are simply laying low, and the women never will give in, so there you are.

Mrs. Anna M. Strain has written to the Press stating that she will put down all manner of lawbreaking in Jamestown, and that as long as women are at the head of public affairs in the city the town will be conducted in a clean and peaceful manner.

SAD FATE.

The New York newspapers recently published the details of the suicide of a society woman who became crazed by headache and drowned herself in the harbor. What a sad end to a life that ought to have been completely happy!

Doubtless sad because advanced science could have saved her. Munyon has a specific for all kinds of headache, which cures in three minutes and leaves no depressing effects. One or two doses will stop Sick Headache, Neuralgia, Headaches from Indigestion, Nervousness, Over-work, Cold Interference, or Rail-road.

In striking contrast to the above sad case is that of Mrs. E. Hardin, 399 Germantown Avenue, Philadelphia, Pa., wife of the Clerk of the Board of Education, who says: "For thirty years I suffered with sick headache, which appeared in attacks of severe pain, so intense that I was obliged to remain in bed for days at a time. These attacks appeared at most every week, and I never did I ever receive relief, although I consulted the most skilled physicians in the city. The headaches seemed to wear themselves out and then commence anew. At last I was induced to try Munyon's Headache Cure. The relief was magical and almost instantaneous. I followed up the treatment and was completely cured. I have since have passed a year, and have had no return of the headaches. I have recommended Munyon's Remedies to a number of my friends, and I have received their most sincere thanks for many wonderful cures that have been accomplished by these little pellets."

Professor Munyon has a separate specific for each disease, the only logical system of medicine.

The county clerkship is by all odds the best paying office in Orange county. From time immemorial it has been the unwritten law that no man should have this far office in more than two terms. Boss Odell decreed, however, that his faithful henchman Mr. Tilbury should be given a third nomination and a subservient and picked convention did his bidding. The voters are still to be reckoned with and in the open elections of the Republicans here, and elsewhere, are any indication of the drift of public sentiment in that party they will knock out the third term scheme by electing Samuel D. Roberson who will make one of the best county clerks Orange county has ever had.

The only way to put a stop to extravagance in city expenditures is to vote for the Democratic candidates for city offices who are all pledged to a policy of retrenchment and greater regard for the rights and interests of the taxpayer and property owner. The only way to put a stop to legislative extravagance at Albany is to vote for the Democratic candidate for Member of Assembly. The Republican candidate, Messrs. Peck and Goodsell have made for the interests of Albany at the expense of or to have them sought to the detriment of the tax-payer. The expenditure of his money voted for either A. S. Lubin in the First District or Daniel P. Schultz in this district will not be economy as well as in honest and the representatives.

LOCAL NOMINATIONS

Some of the Candidates Named in Orange County Towns.

The Democrats of Blooming Grove have nominated L. D. Tuthill for Supervisor. The Republicans have nominated Ephraim Board.

A Hard Fought Battle at the Yellow Fever Patients Benefit Ends in the Death of a New Orleans Physician.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 13.—Cummings one of the principals in last night's prize fight, died this morning. Griffin his opponent has been arrested.

The new Tulane Athletic Club opened last night with a big benefit for the sick yellow fever patients.

The fight between Cummings and Griffin, both local pugilists, was a whirlwind from start to finish. Fifteen rounds were fought at the end of which both men were in a state of apparent exhaustion.

Physicians made efforts to bring the fight to a close before this.

In the fifteenth round Griffin hit Cummings a hard punch and the latter sank to the floor not from the blow so much as because of lack of vitality. He was taken to the dressing room where he complained that his head hurt. He became unconscious and died at 4:15 this morning.

Griffin was so badly injured that he had to be taken home and put to bed.
The hospital physicians says Cummings had hemorrhage of the brain and possibly a concussion.

—W. F. O'Neill and Miss Edna, a particularly interesting girl of fifteen, left here Tuesday morning to attend the O'Neill-Lynch wedding which occurred at Mountaindale at 5:30 o'clock that afternoon, as told in another column. They went to Archibald O'Neill's at Fallsburg, a brother of W. F. O'Neill, whose team and surrey took the party to the Lynch house during the early afternoon. The gentlemen occupied the front seat, and Miss Edna sat upon the laps of the others in the rear seat.

They took the shortest road, which led across the Dennison Ford, one of oldest fords in the Neversink River. The stream is about forty yards wide, and the water was running swiftly, about even with the wagon hubs.

They reached their destination, and a most enjoyable evening was spent.

On returning, the moon shone brightly, though occasionally obscured by a cloud. It was about 7:30 when they reached the ford. They had met a man, a school teacher of the vicinity, just before reaching the steep incline which leads down into the water, and which once commenced must be continued to the other bank—no turning around there. He had crossed a ford above, but failed to tell them of the rising water.

The moon was under a cloud, and the current was roaring loudly as the horses crossed the water. The fluctuating stream had raised, and in a moment the horses were bounding and water came in the body of the wagon.

"Hold up your feet, girls, or you'll get them wet," said Mr. O'Neill, of this city. The command was obeyed with alacrity. One of the horses acted bravely, and Archibald O'Neill unchained them with the whip.

They sprang forward, and the light bolt gave way, and the horses pulled loose from the wagon. Mr. O'Neill leaped to the lines and leaped into the stream. He managed to catch hold of one horse's tail, and was pulled to the shore.

W. F. O'Neill jumped over the dash board into the roiling current. The water reached the middle button of his vest and the current ran with such force that he could only keep his vest by holding fast to the wagon.

Working his way to the rear seat, he called to Edna to jump on his back. She hesitated, but he commanded, "Get on my back, and don't choke me."

The brave little girl did as directed, and clinging heroically about her mother's shoulders she placed her head against his, and the journey to shore was commenced. Her skirts became water soaked and impeded his progress, but with an effort which was superhuman, the father reached the shore with his precious burden, several yards below the wagon, each step having carried him further down the stream. He sank utterly exhausted to the ground.

In the meantime, the high leading of the survey caused it to rock in the current, and it threatened to be overturned at any moment. Mrs. O'Neill doubtless faints, nor of a sound escaped her lips. Clara screamed tamely, and the two men breasted the stream again. nearer and nearer they came to the wagon when it began to move down stream faster. W. F. O'Neill went to the aid of the ladies, while the husband had rather grasped the wagon pole and sought to stay the current's power.

"Come, Clara, get on my back," coaxed Mr. O'Neill. "No, I'll not leave mother here," she replied.

Then from the shore came the pitiful pleadings of Edna to her father to come back before he was washed away.

It was all over in a few moments, but it seemed an hour. Mr. O'Neill clutched his niece and endeavored to pull her from the wagon. She refused to be taken from her mother's side, and in a moment the wagon swept around in the stream. Mr. O'Neill fell, his strength gone, and struggled to retain his footing.

Archibald O'Neill clung tenaciously to the wagon pole, and he was pulled down the stream into seven feet of water. He floated along for a hundred yards, when the wagon suddenly turned over, and he released his hold and struggled to the shore, which he finally reached, half-drowned and too exhausted to speak.

W. F. O'Neill assisted him when near the land, and the two called lustily for help, and then listened. Only the roar of

SWEPT TO THEIR DEATHS.

MRS. A. D. O'NEILL AND DAUGHTER, CLARA, DROWNED AT A FORD OF THE NEVER-SINK RIVER.

WERE RETURNING TO FALLSBURG FROM A WEDDING AT MOUNTAINDALE — NARROW ESCAPE OF W. F. O'NEILL AND HIS DAUGHTER, EDNA — VAIN ATTEMPT TO RESCUE MOTHER AND DAUGHTER FROM THE CARRIAGE-SWEPT DOWN STREAM BY THE SWIFT CURRENT—BOAT RECOVERED THIS AFTERNOON.

A most distressing tragedy occurred at Dennison's ford on the Neversink river two miles and a half from Fallsburg, last night, when Mrs. Archibald O'Neill and her daughter Clara, aged 19, lost their lives in the swift running current.

W. F. O'Neill and his daughter, Edna, of this city, were nearly drowned, as was Archibald O'Neill, the husband and father of the unfortunate victims.

The report of the accident reached here at 10 o'clock, Tuesday night, and the story said that Mrs. W. F. O'Neill and daughter, Edna, were the victims. Telegraphic communication revealed the truth, and Blanche O'Neill rested peacefully in her home on Highland avenue, and Mrs. W. F. O'Neill was with friends in Brooklyn, both unconscious of the narrow escape the other members of the family had had and unaware of the terrible fatality.

W. F. O'Neill and Miss Edna, a particularly interesting girl of fifteen, left here Tuesday morning to attend the O'Neill-Lynch wedding which occurred at Mountaindale at 5:30 o'clock that afternoon, as told in another column.

They went to Archibald O'Neill's at Fallsburg, a brother of W. F. O'Neill, whose team and surrey took the party to the Lynch house during the early afternoon. The gentlemen occupied the front seat, and Miss Edna sat upon the laps of the others in the rear seat.

An Advertiser reporter, who left here at 3:30, this morning, found the survivors at the O'Neill Hotel. Kind hearted women combed Edna while the brothers, Arch and Will, were alone, utterly heart broken and well nigh exhausted from the excitement of the night, having been unable to sleep. Breakfast was untouched and no word cheered the sadness of the house.

The mother was stunned. A little more than two years ago her son, a bright boy of fifteen, was drowned while swimming in a pond near by. The last night's horror had seen the cruel water's triumph in wiping out all that was left of his family. Once before, when Clara was little, she was nearly drowned at the very spot where she met her death, and had not her brother caught her by the hair death would certainly have claimed her at that time. All this revolved before the mother's vision and she looked the masterpiece of grief.

W. F. O'Neill and Edna came to this city on Oct. 8, this morning. The Fallsburg station was crowded with people who had gathered to hear of the story. All old friends, it was impossible to turn aside their sympathy at his grief, and Mr. O'Neill told them the fearful story, while women cried.

Arriving here they were taken home. The scene at the home was heart-rending. The sisters and mother met with a realizing sense of their narrow escape. Mr. O'Neill was prostrated. Dr. Fancher was quickly called and administered restorative.

Word was telegraphed Mrs. O'Neill, who was at 723 Monroe street, Brooklyn, and to Mr. O'Neill's sister, Mrs. J. B. Ritchie, No. 13 East Forty-fourth street, Bayonne City, N. J., informing them of the sad affair and calling them to the city at once.

Mrs. A. D. O'Neill was Miss Sophia Ross, of Danvers, Mass., and was forty-seven years of age. She is survived by her husband and several brothers and sisters who reside in Pennsylvania and points in the far west.

W. F. O'Neill jumped over the dash board into the roiling current. The water reached the middle button of his vest and the current ran with such force that he could only keep his vest by holding fast to the wagon.

Working his way to the rear seat, he called to Edna to jump on his back. She hesitated, but he commanded, "Get on my back, and don't choke me."

The brave little girl did as directed, and clinging heroically about her mother's shoulders she placed her head against his, and the journey to shore was commenced.

Her skirts became water soaked and impeded his progress, but with an effort which was superhuman, the father reached the shore with his precious burden, several yards below the wagon, each step having carried him further down the stream. He sank utterly exhausted to the ground.

In the meantime, the high leading of the survey caused it to rock in the current, and it threatened to be overturned at any moment. Mrs. O'Neill doubtless fainted, nor of a sound escaped her lips.

Clara screamed tamely, and the two men breasted the stream again.

Archibald O'Neill clung tenaciously to the wagon pole, and he was pulled down the stream into seven feet of water. He floated along for a hundred yards, when the wagon suddenly turned over, and he released his hold and struggled to the shore, which he finally reached, half-drowned and too exhausted to speak.

W. F. O'Neill assisted him when near the land, and the two called lustily for help, and then listened. Only the roar of the rushing current responded, and the three survivors broke down completely, and stood sobbing together. Suddenly wagons were heard approaching. Other wedding guests and relatives of the drowned women were approaching. They were warned against making the ford, and then scattered the word. The men in the party began a search down the stream. The survivors, shivering in their water-soaked garments, were wrapped in blankets, and about 9:30 o'clock they were taken home.

Harvey Hopkins, son of Division Superintendent C. H. Hopkins of the O. and W., who has been day operator at Fallsburg, (until to-day when he is asked to be relieved and another man is sent there) was seated on Mr. O'Neill's porch when the team of water-soaked horses ran up to the hotel. He at once concluded that something had gone wrong and gave the alarm. A dozen horses were harnessed and as many wagons were driven to the ford. Searching parties patrolled the stream for at least two miles peering anxiously into the tumbling current. William Mitter and Post master Porter led the searchers and until 2 o'clock in the morning the search was kept up incessantly without success.

The water was too oily to be carefully examined in the dark and the search was given up until daylight, this morning, when scores of residents of Fallsburg and vicinity began to snow. Boats were secured from McCormick's, near Alta Lake, as Brown's pond above Fallsburg station is now filled, and the Neversink is being searched for several miles.

An Advertiser reporter, who left here at 3:30, this morning, found the survivors at the O'Neill Hotel. Kind hearted women combed Edna while the brothers, Arch and Will, were alone, utterly heart broken and well nigh exhausted from the excitement of the night.

SHEARING SHEEP BY WHOLESALE
Electricity Used as the Power to Run the Machines.

At Great Falls, Mont., which has become the largest wool shipping point of the northwest, great difficulty has often been experienced in disposing within a given time of the shearing of large shipments of sheep. This difficulty, says the Pittsburgh Dispatch, has now been amply met by the use of electricity. The shearing sheds are adjacent to the terminus of the street railway company's line, and the trolley current has been utilized to drive the shearing machines. The installation is of the simplest possible description. A street railway motor was taken from one of the cars and the armature pinion was replaced by a small pulley, which was belted to the main overhead shaft. So little power was needed that two rheostats had to be put in the circuit to keep the speed down.

The foreman of the shearers, after only five minutes' instruction, took full charge of the motor, giving it all the necessary attention in oiling, starting and stopping. After the machines were started the maintaining of a uniform speed was easy and within half an hour the 20 machines were ripping off the fleeces at a rate which broke the record. The power was transmitted to the shears, which resemble horse clippers in their operation, through universal joints. In three weeks 16,184 sheep were sheared by the one motor, averaging nearly 100 sheep per day for each machine.

ORIGIN OF THE CAKE WALK.

Formerly a Marriage Ceremony—It Has Lost Its Significance.

The cake walk proper had its origin among the French negroes of Louisiana more than a century ago, says an authority. There is little doubt that it was a copy of some of the old French country dances. It resembles several of them in form. From New Orleans it spread over the entire south and then to the north. It was found particularly in the plantation negroes. They were not wedded by license, and it was seldom that the services of a preacher were called in. At first it was a man might legitimately buy a negro girl for a wife. In the cake walk was not different from the old Scotch marriage, which required only public acknowledgment of the contracting parties. So this was a dance in some sense a wedding, a purchase or rejection and a ceremony. This explains its popularity in the backwoods, outside of its beauties, and the non-experiment of music, the exponent at all times to command negro support. Cake walking has now lost its most things that are constantly practiced. It has lost its originality in the south. Negroes now get married, when they marry at all, in white folks' fashion. It has become, however, a pantomime dance, usually performed, it is, in a beautiful way. The cake is not much of a prize, when the negro has a sweet tooth.

caused Titters and Sly Chickies—She Wasn't His Wife.

Unfortunate but rather embarrassing and unfortunate jealousy occurred the other day in a large draper's shop, says a reporter. A gentleman who is a little fond of joshing entered the shop for the purpose of meeting his wife at a certain counter. Sure enough, there she was, dressed to his eye's heart's content in that part of the shop by this time a loud and shrill voice cried out: "I ain't spending your money or your man's money, and I'll."

"I ain't your man's money, and I'll," retorted the shopkeeper, "I suppose you're my wife and me."

"I just ain't your wife, nor no man's wife, thank fortune, to be sure, every time I try a yeller up to you, you'll get your wife if you go about her like you did me. If I was and unfeeling behavior.

A prominent priest to be seen in the bicycle mount, New York, a New York "man of science" of the most noted, looked disgruntled and asked a fellow why priests were forbidden to ride the wheel in various diseases. That particular priest, from Paris, where they were prohibited from riding, to advise that they were crossbones and were obliged to ride women's wheels in order to protect their skirts. That was enough to understand, and it was for a similar reason, brought the mount of the Montreal bishop to the sidewalk. The priests of his church, who have been seen in New York on wheels, are few of them that ever seemed out of order or disgruntled.

that you're using the right thing for washing? If the work is slow and hard, and you have to depend upon rubbing, then you ought to get something else. And even if you have something that saves work, it may be bad for the clothes. You may be ruining them.

Pearline gives the easiest, quickest, most economical washing, of anything that's safe to use. The more you investigate, and inquire and compare, the surer you'll be that Pearline is the only right thing to wash with.

Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you "this is as good as the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled, and if your grocer sends you something in place of Pearline, be honest—send it back.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. To Gain Flesh to Sleep Well, to Know What Appetite and Good Digestion.

Memo: Make a Test of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Interesting Experience of an Indiana Gentleman.

No trouble is more common or more misunderstood than nervous dyspepsia. People having it think that their nerves are to blame and are surprised that they are not cured by nerve medicine and spring remedies; the real seat of the mischief is lost sight of, the stomach is the organ to be looked after.

Nervous dyspepsia often do not have any pain whatever in the stomach nor perhaps any of the usual symptoms of stomach weakness. Nervous dyspepsia shows itself not in the stomach so much as in nearly every other organ; in some cases the heart palpitates and is irregular; in others the kidneys are affected; in others the bowels are constipated, with headaches; still others are troubled with loss of flesh and appetite, with accumulation of gas, sour risings and heartburn.

Mr. A. W. Sharper of No. 61 Prospect St., Indianapolis, Ind., writes as follows: "A motive of pure gratitude prompts me to write these new lines regarding the new and valuable medicine, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I have been a sufferer from nervous dyspepsia for the last four years; have used various patent medicines and other remedies without any favorable result. They sometimes give temporary relief until the effects of the medicine wore off. I attributed this to my sedentary habits, being a book-keeper with little physical exercise. But I am glad to state that the tablets have overcome all these obstacles, for I have gained in flesh, sleep better, and am better, in every way. The above is written not for notoriety, but is based on actual fact."

Respectfully yours,

A. W. Sharper.
